

Text: Reading & Decision-making

Task: Once you have completed the reading and the vocabulary activity, complete the questions below with a partner.

After Reading

1. What benefits did two recent Canadian studies find with regards to reading fiction?
2. What are the repercussions of the study's findings for our schools?
3. Who would benefit from reading fiction?
4. Why does the author describe reading fiction as a 'dress-rehearsal for life'?
5. In your opinion, how can reading fiction benefit students in their studies and their future life?

Extension: When you have completed the questions, compare your answers with another pair and be prepared to share your answers with the class.
